

FRANKFORT HOMECOMING SEPT. 18-21

Many Attend Impressive Ceremonies As Cornerstone Of New Homer Church is Laid

The cornerstone of the new Homer church, which replaces the 87-year old church which burned down last March, was laid Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, August 31st, under the most auspicious circumstances. Clippings from the News-Bulletin and other papers were placed in the cornerstone, with the church history etc. It was a wonderful day, slightly suggestive of approaching fall; the sun was shining brightly but not uncomfortably, and a goodly crowd of parishioners and visitors were present to witness the impressive ceremonies.

The basement was in and all finished and the erection of the church had now progressed to the point where it was time to lay down the cornerstone, something which the first church did not have, nor did the first church have a basement.

Dr. John M. Phillips had charge of the laying of the cornerstone, which followed the song "The Church's One Foundation."

In charge of the dedication program was the Rev. Harold M. Finley, pastor of the little church which has a congregation of 77. Chairs had been set up in the shade of some wide-spreading trees. Rev. William A. Bingham, pastor of the Marley Community church, gave the invocation. He said that this was the resurrection of the first Homer township church.

Rev. Finley gave a short historical sketch which had been prepared by Mrs. Lola Storm and Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, who had delivered deeply into the records of bygone days. The sketch revealed that at the time the Homer church was built the population of Chicago numbered some 300 people. This was in 1833. The few families that had settled near Homer came distances as great as 10 miles in vehicles drawn by oxen, every Sunday, to worship. At first they met in the homes of different families and continued this practice until the little church was built. The firmness of the faith of those who came each Sunday to worship is evidenced by the fact that transportation by oxen was slow and laborious, the roads were muddy and almost impassable in bad weather, and there were no homes when the little church was there. Transportation difficulties such as these might have strained the faith of these pioneers, but meant nothing to these determined pioneers.

Some of these pioneers were sitting in the shade of these wide-spreading trees on this sunny Sunday afternoon of cornerstone laying. Sitting second row up front were five octogenarians, gray-haired men, all in their eighties, but seemingly hale and hearty. Among these patriarchs was Henry Burch, now 89, who was present at the first dedication of the Homer church, in 1865.

In the beginning the Homer church was of Presbyterian persuasion and was organized as such, but for some undisclosed reason on April 5, 1849, the members at a church meeting, decided to change over from a Presbyterian to a Congregational church, and at the annual meeting of the Congregational church on June 12, 1850, approval of that change was made.

At the time the Homer church was founded it was known as the Hadley Presbyterian church. Later it was changed to the Homer Congregational church. Land for the church was donated by Henry Hatch.

They had a choir Sunday afternoon which led in the singing. The grand old hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung by all present, after which a former pastor, Rev. Elmer C. Ohlert spoke. Rev. Ohlert did a little reminiscing. He reminded everyone that when he first came from Chicago about seven years ago, he was greatly impressed with the spirit of the people. He called their attention to the fact that the spirit was not in the church but in the people's hearts. When he heard of the burning of the Homer church he was considerably depressed. Several months later when he was told of the rebuilding plans he experienced a corresponding uplift. Then this thought came to him. Now you are having a new building. What will you do with this new building? When the fire destroyed the building the congregation could have dissolved the church and taken the easy way out by going to Lockport and joining the congregation there. However, they did not choose this easy way, which would have been the wrong way, Rev. Ohlert said. Instead, they chose the harder way, which in many cases is the right way. Now, having chosen, it is up to them to put the church to proper use. It must be filled with activities that keep up the interest, good sermons, fervent prayers, and the doors should be open at all times to everybody.

Then Rev. Walker M. Alderton, Professor of the Congregational church seminary spoke. He went on to explain that 1833 when the Homer church was built was a fruitful year for the entire territory. It was right after this when the people started their westward trek in search of gold, and coal and iron were being discovered. Manpower was beginning to come from Europe to this new country, and it was necessary to produce more food to sustain this influx of population. With the coming of these European immigrants also came a new language, Germans, Swedes, Poles and Italians, were among those who sought their fortune in the "promised land" which was America, and they brought their new language with them. Tremendous and sweeping changes were in evidence in that early period.

Rev. Alderton referred, with some skepticism, to the common expression, "The first hundred years are the hardest." He said that these great changes in our economic life were bound to affect our rural churches. In those days the churches were built two or three miles apart, as the mud roads would not permit of further travel. While all these changes were going on, because of the discovery of gold, coal, and other natural resources, people began migrating from the country to the cities, drawn by the lure of what the city offered. Rev. Alderton praised these loyal, staunch parishioners for withstanding the blandishments of the city and remaining in the country, building up their community, and standing by the little Homer church.

An inspiring fact in connection with the burning of the Homer church was this. At the time when the fire was at its height and it was quite evident that the little church was doomed, some of the younger members of the congregation said, "Let us build a new church, and let's build it right now." So they went over and met in a church neighbor's home, and then they took action on rebuilding it. It took courage of a high order to make a decision of this kind under the circumstances.

Strangely enough, while the historical sketch of the church's early beginnings was being given, with its recital of the hardships in the form of muddy roads, ox carts and oxen, great distances, and other elements which made travel slow and arduous, a four-motored mainliner cleaved the sky on its arrow-like flight to Chicago, offering striking contrast to the thoughts just then being enunciated by the speaker.

The closing benediction was given by Rev. Gilbert Bengtson, pastor of Lockport Congregational church.

New Lenox Defeats Waterworks Issue

In the election last Saturday at New Lenox on a $90,000 water works bond issue, 425 votes were cast. The issue was defeated by about 2 to one; 248 cast their votes against the proposition and 159 were in favor with 18 votes being spoiled.

Two circulars had been delivered to each home on Friday, one explaining the issue and the other one urging voters to oppose it. It seems that many persons did not have a clear understanding of what it was all about and thought best to vote it down. There was a probability many thought that this was just the start of another feature, a $450,000 sewer works. Many also thought that with the new schools and the new high school taxes were edging to a place where they would be much out of line.

Readers Viewpoint

Dear Mrs. Semmler: It was with amused disbelief I read Dr. Moser's classical (?) rendition you saw fit to print on your front page two weeks ago. I must compliment you upon your generosity.

Now, it seems that this writing (please forgive me for using that word so loosely) having taken a double dose of horse tonic (only because he can get it wholesale) decided that he and his hay-chewing team of dirt daubers could whip the men of Frankfort in a contest of brawn, might, and muscle, mind you, a tug-of-war. And, as most little boys do, when they feel the presence of permanent doom, and whistle their loudest while passing a cemetery, wrote to you proclaiming their prowess. I wonder if he beat upon his chest with his hard-as-steel, tug-of-war fists when he finished.

Well, dear Mrs. Semmler, the men of Frankfort are quite willing to put this upstart in his rightful place, but hope that he will be saved the disappointment of his and his entire squad not appearing for the event.

Very truly yours,
W. W. Morrison

BURGL'RS ENTER N. LENOX FARM HOME SUNDAY

When the Walter Ruthenbeck family of New Lenox returned from church last Sunday morning they were surprised to find their home on route 30 had been entered.

Upon investigation they found $40 in cash had been taken from Mrs. Ruthenbeck's bill fold which was in the buffet. Also two checks, one for $2 and one for $21, a wrist watch and a ring all belonging to the Ruthenbeck's son Glenn. The checks were prize money which Glenn had received at the Peotone fair. They also took $4 in quarters.

The burglary had been reported to the county sheriff who sent deputies at once to investigate. It appears that it is the work of no stranger as entrance was gained with a key, unlocking the door. Neighbors stated they had seen a dark sedan in the Ruthenbeck's yard along that time.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION TO BE WLS'S DONALD RED BLANCHARD

Big Parade, Accordion Band, Tug of War, Farm Exhibits, Rides, Games, Fun For All

The last Homecoming in this area will be held in Frankfort starting Thursday evening, September 18, and continuing thru the 19th, 20th, and Sunday, the 21st. There will not be an idle moment at this homecoming. It will be a fitting finale to the summer season, and nothing has been spared in the planning to make it a red letter event. The festival will be held on Kansas street, the main street in Frankfort. A big parade will highlight the Homecoming Sunday afternoon. Prizes will be awarded for the best floats.

One of the outstanding and unusual features of the Frankfort Homecoming will be the appearance of the Joliet Township national championship high school band, whose fame is constantly growing, and which is helping make Joliet still more famous. In a Page 1 article about Joliet in last Saturday's Chicago Daily News, Joliet was hailed as "the place where they grow the best bands in the land."

The Joliet high school band, whose director is Bruce Houseknecht, will be in the big parade on Sunday afternoon, and at 7 o'clock Sunday evening will give a concert.

Another big attraction of the Frankfort Homecoming will be Donald "Red" Blanchard, WLS Barn Dance comedian, who will entertain Sunday afternoon and evening. Donald is really funny, and nobody will want to miss him.

Another big attraction which already has the country side buzzing with speculation is the Tug-of-War scheduled for Sunday afternoon, September 21. This will be a test of strength between the village folks ("city slickers") and the farmers. The villagers are cocksure they can pull the farmers all over the lot, and the farmers are wondering how they get that way. Standing by to challenge the winners in this tug-of-war will be the Wilton Center team, who will pull against the winning war tuggers.

There will be plenty in the way of fine music. The Garrett Twins Accordion Band will play on Friday evening, and there will be an electric organ concert and a Dutch band.

Mrs. Hausers dancing school pupils from Joliet will perform Thursday evening, and also Saturday evening.

There will be five different kinds of rides to whoop up the carnival atmosphere, including a merry-go-round, a ferris wheel, etc., which are being furnished by the Raymond C. Dixey Enterprises, of East Chicago, Ind. And, in addition, there will be many interesting games for the children, under supervision of Mrs. A. L. Kraus.

There will also be a farm exhibit tent where farmers and amateur agriculturists can exhibit their produce or outstanding examples of growing skill, such as the biggest potato, tomato, squash, cornstalk, or what have you? For the best specimens in each class ribbons will be awarded.

Sports and entertainment for the adults is by no means being overlooked. Games of all kinds for grownups have been planned in which all can participate and have an enjoyable time.

The PTA and the Women's Club will be in charge of the refreshment stand, where hot coffee, hot dogs and other picnic-day favorites will be served. The Auxiliary of the Bobzin-Swinford American Legion Post will be in charge of the ice cream booth. The firemen and Lions will be in charge of all other stands and booths at the Homecoming.

The festival is being sponsored by every organization in Frankfort for the purpose of acquiring additional funds for the further improvement of the village park. This park, which is for the use of everyone in the village, young and old, has undergone considerable improvement this summer. The ball diamond has been made, poles have been set for electric lights, and most of the wiring material is on hand, but there is not sufficient wire to complete the job. As soon as the rest of the wire is obtained, the electric lights will be installed. They already have the gravel, and it is hoped to realize enough on this Homecoming so next year's celebration can be held in the village park instead of on Kansas street.

Everybody in this territory is cordially invited to attend the Frankfort Homecoming, and in this way help in a very worthy cause—the improvement of the village park. Everybody, after all, has more or less of a stake in this—in fact, a common interest—because this park will be the scene of ball games and other sports to which people of this area will be frequently attracted, and at which they can expect to spend many pleasant hours in the days to come.

Rural Chorus to Provide Music For New Sound Picture

Members of the Will County Rural Chorus have recently been asked and have accepted an invitation from the publicity department of the Illinois Agricultural association to provide background music for a new sound picture being made by the IAA.

Supervising the making of the movie, "Grandma's Scrap Book" is M. G. Rippetau of the IAA publicity department. Rippetau recently appeared at a rehearsal of the Rural Chorus to explain the project. He stated that to his knowledge, this was the first time that a chorus had been asked to do this particular type of work.

It is hoped that the work can be completed by early winter, and it is a challenging project for members of the chorus.

Part of the film was taken at the Sandwich Fair grounds, and one of the scenes shows Fred Francis of New Lenox judging steers.

Upon completion, the film will be available to all organizations throughout Illinois.

More Dairymen Can Participate In Dairy Test Program

Frederick Holm, who resides in Oak Lawn, 10332 South Sawyer avenue, Chicago 43, and who serves as tester for southern Cook and parts of eastern Will County, has left word at the Farm Adviser's office in Joliet, that he can take on some more cooperators in the Owner-Sampler dairy testing program, in the Mokena, Tinley Park, and Crete areas.

The Owner-Sampler phase of dairy testing has met with good cooperation from many dairymen.

In this program, the dairymen takes his own milk samples one night and one morning per month and weighs the milk from each cow's production for this same period of time. Mr. Holm, who is the official DHIA tester, leaves milk sample bottles at the Owner-Sampler cooperator's farm in the afternoon and picks up the milk samples, along with milk weights, the next morning.

This has enabled the DHIA testers to reach many more dairy men with a testing program.

The dairy testers then send these results into the Farm Adviser's office in Joliet where they are placed in the cooperator's book and mailed back to the cooperator once each month.

Engraved high on the state capitol building in Lincoln, Neb., are these words which all of us should remember: "The Safety of the Government Depends on the watchfulness of its Citizens."

the second phase of "Operation Mosquitoes", a war to combat the hordes of mosquitoes which annually invade the area.

First battle of the war, according to Peter Siegle, of the association, has already been won; the establishment of a chartered organization known as the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement association which gathered the required 15,000 signatures on a petition to allow a referendum for a Mosquito Abatement district on the November ballot.

Second phase of the war, according to Mrs. Phyllis Cowan of Olympia Fields, president of the association, consists of raising funds to carry on the campaign.

Some $30,000 is needed to get the referendum on the ballot, pay legal fees, campaign costs, technical and other expenses.

"Considering that there are 300,000 people living in the forty-four districts and areas affected, this is a fairly small sum. Ten cents from each person would pay the bills," the energetic housewife points out. So far 21 of the 44 communities are organized under community chairmen, each with several workers under him.

Edward C. Podewell and Luther C. Clayton, Brainard; Al. Prakashis, Calumet City; Mrs. Edmund Jaracz and Mrs. Theodore Goodman, Women's Division Chicago Heights; Mrs. Lucille Brossard, Crestwood; Posen Midlothian and Oak Forest; Virginia Daley, vice president, Dolton and Riverdale; Claire V. Hansen, Flossmoor; Robert Aylen, Glenwood; Chas. Eckstein, Hazelcrest; Albert Fabricant, Homewood; Phyllis Cowan, Olympia Fields; Dr. J. L. Gonzalez, Tinley Park, Charles Pesek, Worth; Dana Elliott, Jr., Matteson; Fred Bridges, South Chicago Heights.

Mrs. Cowan points out that Illinois law provides for Mosquito Abatement district in any area in which the voters will pass a referendum. The districts when formed are governed by a five-man board which then engages engineers and equipment to administer the program. The most effective method of abating mosquitoes is by changing the flow of the water in such a way that the mosquito cannot breed. Stocking existing pools with fish which eat the mosquito larvae is another method.

Spraying, which is not of long lasting value, will be used for immediate relief and to get rid of air-borne pests. Mrs. Cowan pointed out that spraying or fogging, if properly handled, will not harm property or other forms of wildlife.

"Although the new mosquito abatement district would create another taxing body it must not legally amount to more than 25 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation," Mrs. Cowan declared. "On an evaluation of $6,000 the tax would come to the price of one bug bomb, which offers only temporary relief at best," she said.

New Goldblatt Store Planned For Park Forest

Goldblatt Bros., Inc. has completed negotiations for construction of a new department store in the new $125,000,000 planned community and shopping center of Park Forest, Ill. It was announced by Joel Goldblatt, president. The Park Forest store will be the firm's 16th store in the Chicago area.

The new and ultra-modern building will be erected in the heart of the shopping center, Goldblatt said. The entire store will be on one floor, columnless and air conditioned. The investment in the store will be $2,000,000 and it will be one of the largest one-floor department stores in the Middle West, covering some 60,000 square feet. The store will incorporate the latest advances in department store design for easy, efficient shopping and operation. Only the most modern lighting and display fixtures will be used, the department store executive said.

The existing parking lot at the Park Forest Center will be expanded from its present 1500 car capacity to 3,000 cars to accommodate the new store. It will provide more parking facilities than any other shopping center in the Chicago area.

Goldblatt noted that the new store will serve not only Park Forest, but also the 60,000 persons in the rapidly growing communities which surround Park Forest, including Chicago Heights, Homewood, Flossmoor, Steger, Crete, Matteson and Olympia Fields. An additional 100,000 persons live within easy distance of the shopping center.

Goldblatt observed that the new store would be the most complete and modern in the area and that the location of a Goldblatt store in Park Forest would provide greater shopping convenience for the surrounding communities. He noted also that it now takes a shopper well over an hour to commute to the loop and that no other neighboring community has comparable parking facilities.

"The Park Forest shopping center," he said, "offers an excellent solution to shoppers' problems, combining, as it does, easy parking and accessibility with a wide variety of stores and service establishments. These features make for easy, one-stop shopping."

"While this is our first venture into a shopping center," he added, "we feel that merchandising this store will present no new problems to us. Our company's growth has always been based upon serving neighborhood communities and we are sure that our price and merchandising policies permit us to serve them most advantageously."

The Park Forest center currently comprises 40 shops and stores serving the entire south suburban area. Another 40 stores will be added upon completion of the Goldblatt store. The entire center is canopied for all weather shopping. There is no vehicular traffic through the area, with provision having been made for auto traffic in large parking lots flanking the center. All stores are air-conditioned.

Park Forest, which now houses some 17,000 persons in 4,500 privately-owned and rental homes, is expected to grow to 32,000 by early 1954. The town was planned and developed by American Community Builders, Inc., headed by Philip M. Klutznick, president, and Nathan Manilow, vice president and treasurer. Klutznick said the new Goldblatt store will be a "valuable and welcome addition to what, we feel, is already among the nation's most modern efficient shopping centers."

Goldblatt said the new store will carry the same full line of merchandise as the other stores of the chain do and will offer the same values and prices. It will also make use of an outside selling area designed for sale in season of shrubbery, garden furniture and supplies, and related items.

The architects, Loeb, Schlossman & Bennett, are in the progress of finishing working drawings, with construction scheduled to begin immediately upon their completion. It is planned for the store to be in operation by the fall of next year.

Candidate For GOP Sheriff Nomination Has Fine Experience

John L. Jevitz, who is candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff in the special primary to be held on Tuesday, September 16, has served under two sheriff administrations. Under Sheriff James O'Neill, Jevitz served as night deputy, and was at the same time in charge of the Bureau of Identification and Records. He subsequently served as chief deputy sheriff under Sheriff John Kirincich upon the death of the late William B. Barrowman. Before being named chief deputy, Jevitz took care of certain administrative duties in the sheriff's office.

Mr. Jevitz was first employed in the local National and Federal Match company, from 1917 to 1929, at which time the plant was closed out. While in their employ, at the age of 21, he was president of the Match Workers Union, A. F. L., as well as dele-

During World War II, Mr. Jevitz held important plant protection posts at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company in South Chicago, and the Elwood Ordnance plant at Joliet.

During the administration of Sheriff Kirincich, Mr. Jevitz devoted much of his time and effort towards the beginning of local defense preparations. He attended the first state and nationwide civil defense critiques held at Chicago, all without remuneration. He is now serving his second term as executive secretary of the Will County Republican Central Committee.

For many years Mr. Jevitz has been active in local, fraternal, civic and sports affairs. He is presently supreme vice president of the American Fraternal Union K. S. K. J. lodges. WILCO LEAGUE WORLD SERIES

Frankfort vs Tinley Park
1st Game

Tinley Takes First Game 4-2
by Denny Wheeler

In the first game of the Wilco Small Fry League World Series Frankfort took the lead in the top of the first on a walk and two errors. David Zechlin held the lead in his first pitching inning of the series.

But in the last of the second Tinley tied it up. With one out

Callahan walked, O'Neill struck out, and Miller and Hug got base hits. Miller out at third but Callahan scored. In the third Tinley tallied again. Meyer drove a hit and Zechlin walked Eggert, Ralson and Callahan scoring Meyer. Zechlin then got himself out of the mess by fanning O'Neill.

In the fourth, first baseman Jimmie Stevens (who played great ball in latter part of the season) bobbled Hug's effort and Rajah (Hug) was on first. Then Lucas struck out, Meyer then drove a tremendous liner to right center and streaked around the base-paths. Frankfort never recovered and Tinley went on to win 4-2. Winning pitcher: Hartwig, Losing pitcher: Zechlin.

2nd Game Ends With Horns Locked

Manager Wendell Morrison picked Allan (Lennie) Mager to do the pitching for Frankfort.

Frankfort struck first in the third. Mager tripled, and Zechlin hit a grounder to Hug. Mager held third thinking that if he went Roger would throw him out at the plate. But Hug rum-ger and triple by Zechlin, Hart-bled and there were runners on first and third. Studnicki rolled a hit to center. The ball was hit slowly so Zechlin scored from first behind Mager.

In the first half of the third, Hug singled, Lucas walked, Meyer lined a hit to center, the relay was thrown to the plate in an effort to mow Hug down. Schroeder then fired to second to get Lucas but the throw went to center. In the turmoil both Lucas and Hug scored to tie it up 2-2.

In the fifth, Ronnie Studnicki hit a solo home run to tie the score at 3-3 because Tinley had scored in their half of the fifth. Frankfort had the bases loaded in the sixth but couldn't score.

The Big One Ends up 3-2 Frank
After Frankfort evened up the series at 1-1 by winning 6-4 on Zechlin's great pitching, and Fink and Mager's superb hitting, then came the big one! Mager and Hartwig, the teams ace moundsmen, clashed in a pitcher's duel for 7 innings. Although Frankfort caught on to Hartwig in the first on a double by Ma-wig was truly pitching great ball from then on. Even the game-ending blow was an in field hit. Mager turned in his usual great performance.

In the fourth O'Neill singled for Tinley, and scored when Eggert hit single and ran home when the ball got away from Jerry Peipenbrink in center. This tied the score at 2-2.

In the seventh, Eggert tripled and Hartwig was hit with a pitch. But "Lennie" pitched way out by forcing Miller to pop up, and Siemson and Callahan to fan. Then in the last of the seventh Carter slapped base hit. Fink struck out, Bill Hart batted a double. Then Jerry Man-kowski slashed a hot smash to the second basemen. He batted it down and then helplessly juggled it as Don Carter raced home. He crashed into the catcher with his knee and was hurt badly. However he's alright now. Here is what Frankfort's bats did during the series:

From where I sit by Joe Marsh

Narrow Town—
Broad Outlook

The wife's cousin Ben, and Belle his bride are back from honeymooning in the Rockies. Took them to dinner last night at the Garden Tavern. Ben told about the trip:

"Went through a town in Idaho that was only 100 feet wide. No kidding! Built into a long, narrow canyon. And it shares those 100 feet with a railroad track that runs right through the hotel!"

"To get gas there we had to park right on the tracks. Suddenly Belle screams—'there's a train coming!' But the gas fellow just laughs and says we were there first. Blamed if the engineer didn't stop the train and wait, too!"

From where I sit, it's a good illustration of how people can learn to "think of the other fellow" so that the community benefits. Railroaders and townspeople, Democrats and Republicans, malted milk fanciers and those who prefer a temperate glass of beer—we all have to share the same space. Let's maintain our neighbor's "right of way."

"If I had my life to live over again..."

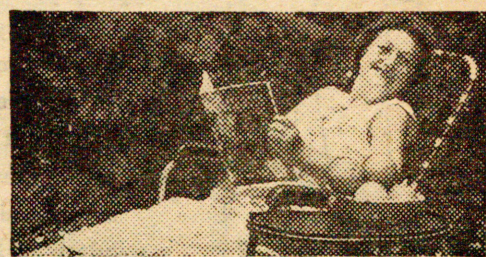

Jewell Miller, Illinois Bell Installer, who is retiring on a pension this fall after 40 years' service with the company

"I'd do some things differently, of course, but I'd still start all over again with Illinois Bell. It's given me a chance to earn a good living for my family. It's been a pleasant place to work—I've made a lot of friends along the line. I've gotten real satisfaction from my job, too—telephone work is useful, essential work. And now that I'm about to retire, I've got a pension that will help to keep me in comfort as long as I live.

"Would I recommend the telephone company as a good place to work? I certainly would—to any young man or young woman."

When a man nears the end of his business career, he's in a position to speak with utter frankness—particularly when he has a pension that helps to assure his future. Mr. Miller, Illinois Bell Installer with 40 years' service, is in such a position. And this year there are some 365 other Illinois Bell men and women who will also retire on pensions. Talking to them, you'll find that most feel as Mr. Miller does about the telephone company. It's a good place to work. Today, as when they were young, it offers a real opportunity to young women and men.

Having fun in Florida, Mrs. Helen R. Long, former Illinois Bell Operator, who retired on a pension two years ago and now lives in the sunshine state.

Farm Management Tour Scheduled For Friday, Sept. 12

An all-day Farm Bureau farm management tour has been worked out by Fieldman John McNair in cooperation with Farm Advisers Wayne Churchill of Will county and Lloyd Graham of Kankakee county, and is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 12.

This is an annual affair, looked forward to by several hundred farmers in Will and Kankakee Counties.

The tour will start at 10:00 a. m. at the Kenneth E. Maves farm. It can be reached by going east from Peotone on the Beecher blacktop for 2 miles and then turn north on the gravel road .7 of a mile.

Homer Kuder, Will county soil conservationist, will discuss the sound soil conservation plan in operation on this farm. Maves keeps a high percentage of land in legumes and grasses.

From here, the tour will go to the Clarence Schroeder farm 2 1/2 miles southeast of Peotone. Lunch will be served there by the ladies of the Home Bureau.

Schroeder has a dairy barn remodeled to house 2200 hens. A discussion of egg marketing by Prof. E. E. Broadbent of the University of Illinois will also be featured at this stop.

The last stop will be at the Lester Schroeder farm, featuring efficient dairy, poultry, and hog enterprises. Many labor-saving devices will be seen.

Those in charge point out that everyone interested in farming together with all members of their families, is invited to attend this important tour.

With Doerfler: Law Enforcement Is A Career

An Open Letter TO THE CITIZENS OF WILL COUNTY FROM ROY C. DOERFLER

Dear Friends:

Because it is impossible for a candidate to personally visit all the people of Will County, I take this means of seeking your support of my candidacy for SHERIFF at the Special Republican Primary Election, September 16, 1952.

I am basing my campaign entirely upon my personal qualifications as represented by twelve years experience as a law enforcement officer and criminal investigator, together with the special training in modern methods of law enforcement received as a student at the F.B.I. National Police Academy.

I believe my qualifications warrant the support of the citizens of our County. We are all interested in efficient, honest, and impartial law enforcement. That is why I say to you I have made no "deals"; I have accepted no favors; and I will not ally myself with any individual or group who may later make demands that would prove contrary to the best interest of good government.

If elected your SHERIFF, I assure you I will perform the duties of the Office of Sheriff of Will County honestly, efficiently and conscientiously. Every problem coming before me will be handled entirely on its merits, favoring no one, but with equal justice to all.

Let me stress that it is important that you use your American Right; to vote in this special primary, and why not take your neighbor along with you?

Sincerely,

ROY C. DOERFLER

Urge Voters To Adopt Blue Ballot Banking Amendment

Illinois labor has joined with bankers and 39 civic organizations as well as both political parties in urging adoption of the Blue Ballot Banking Amendment at the November election. The Illinois State Federation of Labor and the Illinois State Industrial Union Council, CIO, have passed resolutions urging adoption of the Banking Amendment as part of the continuing Gateway campaign for better state government and a more modern Illinois Constitution.

The Banking Amendment, to be submitted to Illinois voters on a Blue Ballot along with three other amendments, would eliminate the present double liability of stockholders in Illinois chartered banks. These provisions have discriminated against Illinois state banks and have weakened the dual banking system in the state. Union leaders point out that it is in the interest of all citizens that our traditional dual banking system, which has contributed so greatly to the economic development of our state, be preserved.

An Eastern manufacturer now has more than 1,200 employees with 25 or more years of service.
